Interactive Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework: Ages Birth to Five

A guide to what children should know and do in five central developmental domains

▸ Introduction

▸ Guiding Principles for School Readiness

▸ The Organization of the Framework

▸ How to Use the Interactive Framework

Select any item to see the associated subdomains, goals, developmental progressions, and indicators. Find related resources for frontline staff, professional development, and for families.

|  | Infant / Toddler Domains | Preschooler Domains |
|---|---|---|
| Approaches to Learning (/school-readiness/article/approaches-learning) | Approaches to Learning (/school-readiness/article/approaches-infant) | Approaches to Learning (/school-readiness/article/approaches-learning-preschool) |
| Social and Emotional Development (/school-readiness/article/social) | Social and Emotional Development (/school-readiness/article/social-infant) | Social and Emotional Development (/school-readiness/article/social- | preschool)

Language and Literacy readiness/article/language)

Language and Communication readiness/article/language-infant)

(/school-
readiness/article/la nguage-preschool)

(/school-
readiness/article/lit eracy-preschool)

Language and Communication

Cognition
readiness/article/cognition)

Cognition
readiness/article/cognitioninfant)

(/school-
readiness/article/m ath-preschool)

(/school-
readiness/article/sc ience-preschool)

Mathematics
Development

Scientific Reasoning

Perceptual, Motor, and Physical Development
readiness/article/perceptual)

Perceptual, Motor, and Physical Development
readiness/article/perceptual-
infant)

Perceptual, Motor, and Physical Development
readiness/article/perceptual-preschool)

Read more:

Early learning outcomes,  School Readiness