

Information for Parents of Infants & Toddlers (Approximate Ages 0-3)

Being a parent of a baby or a toddler can be both fun and hard work. If your child is age three or younger, this page is meant for you. These links will help you learn how to give your child a healthy start to life.

Diseases & Conditions

- Autism
- Birth Defects
- Common Cold
- Coronavirus disease 2019 \(COVID-19\): Caring for children
- Ear Infection
- Flu
- Group B Strep
- Jaundice
- Prenatal Infections
- Vitamin K Deficiency Bleeding

Safety in the Home & Community

- Child Passenger Safety
- Medicine Safety
- Safety in Your Home
- Sudden Infant Death Syndrome \(SIDS\)
- Vaccine Safety

Raising Healthy Children

- Breastfeeding
- Ensuring the Success of Newborn Screening
- Essentials for Parenting
- Infant & Toddler Nutrition
- Infant Immunization Questions
- Maternal Health
- Positive Parenting Tips

Milestones & Schedules

- Child Development
- Developmental Milestones
- Growth Charts
- Immunization Scheduler
- Vaccines and Immunization Questions

A photograph of a woman with dark hair, wearing a blue shirt, holding a young child in her arms. The child is wearing a pink shirt and is smiling. They are in a brightly lit indoor setting.

Help your child grow and thrive with CDC's free Milestone Tracker app.

cdc.gov/MilestoneTracker

Page last reviewed: February 28, 2022